THE BEST MAGAZINE.

The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature,
IN literary merit and sterling worth, is without question the best Magazine published. It is such, because it comprises, in moderate compass and convenient form, the excellences—the choicest articles—
the cream, so to speak, of all the leading Foreign Quarterlies and Magazines, and the productions of their most gilted pens. In this respect, the Eclectic has a decided advantage over all other Magazines.
Omitting articles of mere local interest and minor importance to the American reader, its pages offer to its patrons a large amount of literary wealth, of permanent value, at a small price.

The Eclectic is published in moathly numbers of 144 pages each, making three large volumes a year, and nearly 1,800 pages, richly embellished with 12 splendid portraits of distinguished persons or historical subjects. The price is $5 a year. The January number begins a new volume. Now is a good time to subscribe. Orders for the work are solicited. It will be sent promptly by mail to all who order it.

Address W. H. BIDWELL,
No. 120 Nassau street, New York.

The Sets of the work, in 9 volumes, for the last three years, neatly bound, lettered, and numbered, may be had at the office of publication, and sent to

THE SOURREIGN BULE OF SOUTH CAROLINA Views of Southern Lows, Life, and Hospitality. Written in Charleston, S. C., by F. C. Adams.

Written in Charleston, S. C., by F. C. Adams.

THE above work forms a beautiful 12mo volume of over 300 pages, small pica. Price—in paper, 50 cents; muslin, 75 cents. The usual discount to the Trade. Orders solicited. Copies sent by mail, prepaid, any distance under 3,000 miles, for 61 cents.

The above work is a delineation of the scenes and incidents connected with the imprisonment, in 1852 of Manuel Pereira, steward of the British brig Jan son, in the jail of Charleston, S. C.

The following notice of this work is copied from the National Era of February 17:

"The above is the title of a work now in press founded upon that infamous statute of South Carolina, by which her citizens claim a right to imprison colored seamen, of all nations, and even those cast upon their shores in distress. We have perused the book in advance of its publication, and find that it gives a lifelike picture of Pereira, the vessel in which he sailed, the storms she encountered, and her wrecked condition when brought into the port of Charleston, S. C.; to gether with the imprisonment of Pereira, several seamen belonging to the New England States, and two French seamen; the prison regimen, character of the Charleston police, and the mendacity of certain officials, who make the law a medium of peculation. The work is replete with incidents of Southern life and character, pointing Southerners to the things that call for correction at their own hands, with a force that cannot be mistaken. The work is written by one who has taken a prominent part in the affairs of the South, and cannot fail to interest alike the general reader, commercial man, and philanthropist."

"BOLLO ON THE ATLANTIC," BEAUTIFULLY illustrated with original design

BEAUTIFULLY illustrated with original designs.

"Rollo on the Atlantic" is the first book of a series to be published under the general title of Rollo's Tour in Europe.

Extract from the Preface:

"The books are intended to be books of instruction, rather than of mere amusement; and, in porusing them, the reader may feel assured that all the information which they contain, not only in respect to the countries visited, and to the customs, usages, and modes of life that are described, but also in regard to the general character of the incidents and adventures that the young travellers meet with, is in most strict accordance with fact. The main design of the narrative is thus the communication of useful knowledge; and everything which they contain, except what is strictly personal, in relation to the actors in the story, may be depended upon as exactly and scrupulously true." ENGLISH LITERATURE OF THE 19TH CENTURY.

New Edition.

E. C. & J. BIDDLE, No. 6 South Fifth street, stereotype edition of English Literature of the Nineteenth Century, On the plan of the author's "Compendium of English Literature," and supplementary to it. Designed for colleges and advanced classes in schools as wel as for private reading. By Charles D. Cleveland.

The "Compendium of English Literature," by Prof.

the volume.

Prof. C.'s two volumes of English Literature are now extensively used as text-books in colleges, academies, and the higher class of seminaries, throughout the United States. The following opinions relative to "English Literature of the Nineteenth Centary," are selected from a large number equally commendatory of the work:

From Prof. Chauncey A. Goodrich, D. D., of Yale College.

"I consider Prof. Cleveland's 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century' an appropriate sequel to his 'Compendium.' The author has shown the same just and delicate appreciation of literary excellence in this, as in the former volume; and, as it reaches down to our times, it will be still more interesting to a large portion of the public, and especially to the young. Few persons can understand what an amount of reading, thought, nice discrimination, and laborious cot densation of knowledge, are requisite to the production of such a work; and just in proportion as men toil more extensively in this field, will be the estimate they will put upon this result of the author's labors."

From George B. Emerson, Esq., of Boston.

From George B. Emerson, Esq., of Boston.

"I have examined your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century,' and I like it exceedingly It is extremely well and fairly done. The biographical notices are just and discriminating; and, while they are long enough to gratify the curiosity we have to know something of an author, they are so spirited as to swaken a desire to know more. The selections are admirable. I have adopted the work as a text book for my first class, overy individual of which is now preparing, under its guidance, to give a fuller account of the writings of some one chosen author."

From Exp. B. P. Autolatt. D. D. of Cincinnation

now preparing, under its guidance, to give a fuller account of the writings of some one chosen author."

From Rev. B. P. Aydelott, D. D., of Cincinnati.

"I have examined with much care, and still greater pleasure, and, I trust, not a little profit, your." English Literature of the Nineteenth Century."

It is, I believe, the richest collection of gems in our language. There is nothing in it I would omit, and yet it is not too large for popular use. Considering the very brief limits to which you were obliged to confine yourself, I am surprised at the fullness and richness of your biographical details. Your most difficult and deligate task, however, was the critical judgment to be passed upon each author; and here I think you have been very happy—discriminating and just, and yet kind. * But I would feel that whatever I have said about the volume, however true, ought to be considered as of little worth, could I not add—as I cheerfally do—a strong testimony to its high moral tone and eminently Christian spirit. The general reader cannot fail to be interested, the student profited, the scholar delighted, and the man of piety pleased, with your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century."

Cookery as it should be? Ah, well, that's a pretty bold title? And a dubious one, too, exclaims another, for if the authoress is going to tell us what it should be, that will be nothing now, for we all know by daily experience what it should and could be, but what it is not. Well, she tells you what it should be, and how to make it so; and in short, plain, practical, and simple rules, such as the result of a long and constantly active experience in providing for the daily wants of a large household, enables her to do in the very best manner. Every one who has eaten at our authoress's board will bear ample testimony to the excellent qualities of the many good things she daily sets before thom, prepared under her own superintendence, and the rules for making which she herein sets forth.

The recipes of the world-renowned Mrs. Goodfellow, for cakes, pastry, and sweetmeats, are now for the first time collected together for the benefit of all who desire to be good housekeepers.

In short, this new Cook Book is offered to the public as the best which has ever been propared, and the publisher invites all housekeepers.

PROSPECTUS OF THE PROHIBITIONIST

"If any State deems the retail and internal traffic a ardent spirits injurious to its citizens, and calcutated to froduce idleness, vice, or debauchery, I see othing in the Constitution of the United States to revent it from regulating or restraining the traffic, or from prohibiting it altogether, if it thinks proper."

Chief Justice Taney.

ON or before the 1st of January, 1854, the Exceutive Committee of the New York State Temperrance Society will issue the first number of a Monthly Temperance Journal, under the title of "Tuz Pro remperance Journal, under the track of the second of the s ost, making eight quarto pages, of four columns to page; and, excluding advertisements, each number ill contain an amount of reading matter equal at ast to that furnished by our larger-sized daily jour-ls, or to that of an ordinary duodecimo volume of vigorous enforcement of Prohibitory Laws when obtained.

Its Field.—Dealing with general principles, with arguments alike applicable to every community where the traffic exists and with facts illustrative of these arguments and principles, the paper will be National in its spirit, in its scope, in its purpose, and, we trust, it will be National in its circulation and influence. Such is our aim and expectation. We desire to see the Principle of Prohibition established in State after State, till it becomes the recognised policy of the Nation. It is our ambition to bear a part in this great work, and to this end The Prohibitions is established, not as the organ of a society merely, but of a General Reportancy Movement.

Its Necessity.—The existing Temperance Journals have little, if any, circulation outside of the Temperance Ranks. Their price almost necessarily restricts them to the friends of the cause. The Paonisitioning among the indifferent and the hostile. For this purpose it is put at a price so low as to enable the friends of Temperance in every school district, by combined action and at an inconsiderable expense, to place a copy in each family that will consent to receive it.

CHORAL ADVOCATE

CHORAL ADVOCATE

Is the cheapest and best Musical Paper in the world. This Journal, which has heretofore been published monthly, commences its fifth year in January next, and thenceforward it will be published every two weeks—on every other Thursday; thereby giving more than twice as much matter, without any increase in price. Each number contains sixteen quarto pages, four of which are new music, consisting of glees, hymn tunes, chants, anthems, dedication and holyday pieces, and, in short, every variety of music adapted to purposes of religious worship, to public occasions, and to the home circle; all of which will be of a practical charactor, and such as can be sung by persons of ordinary musical attainments. In the editorial department of the Review are engaged (in addition to Mr. Cady, the former editor) gentlemen of the highest talent and ripost musical experience, among whom are George F. Root, William B. Bradbury, Thomas Hastings, and Lowell Mason; and its circle of correspondence, home and foreign, is complete. The Review will also be a regular medium for the announcement of new musical publications by all the leading publishing houses in the Union. The subscription list of this papers is now Union. The subscription list of this paper is now larger than that of any similar journal in the world, and the new arrangements, rendering it the cheapost as well as (it is hoped) the most valuable musical paper ever published, must largely increase its already unparalleled circulation.

Terms. — One dollar per annum, or six copies for the deliver shows in advance.

Terms. — One dollar per annum, or six copies for five dollars, always in advance.

The music alone in a volume would cost over five dollars in the usual form. Beside this, there will be an immense amount of musical news, essays, criticism, instruction, &c., all for only one dollar! Every one feeling a particle of interest in the cause of music will surely subscribe.

One Volume 12mo, $1.

THE object of this tale is to exhibit in different phases, in high life and low life, the accursed effects of intemperate drinking, the bane of social life, the curse of civilized man. The characters are well and sharply drawn, and the various scenes are well and sharply drawn, and the various scenes are well and sharply drawn, and the various scenes are well and sharply drawn, and the various scenes are well and sharply drawn, and the various scenes are well and sharply drawn. The characters are well and sharply drawn and the bost of its kind that has yet appeared.—Boston Traveller.

It is not often that we read a story of any kind, but we have broken our practice, and have read this book not only with pleasure, but with a gratification which but very few novels have ever afforded us. It is a quiet and simple, but still striking and effective picture of American social life.—Chacago Tribune.

Has so many thrilling passages and well-drawn characters, that you read it with absorbed attention. It cannot fail to achieve for Mrs. Collins an envisible popularity. She takes us with her to the drunkard's home, and tells of the hunger and the fear, the toil and the suffering, that are there. She paints, with a woman's delicate skill, the meek patience, the long-abused, but unchanging love of the drunkard's wife, touches the deepest chords of the heart, and makes them vibrate with pity and with indignation. Though Mrs. Collins has already hosts of admirers of her literary productions, this work, we predict, will increase that number ten-fold, and give her a reputation worthy of her high talents.—New Albany Tribune.

We know of no passage, anywhere, more uniquely beautiful, more intensely absorbing, more overpowering in the pathetic, than the thirty-fourth chapter. It is indeed a gem. KLEVENTH VOLUME OF THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST,

THE LEADING

Weekly Agricultural Paper of the Country.

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST, a weekly Periodical of sixteen large quarto pages, making an annual volume of 832 pages of nearly double the size of those in the first ten volumes of the Agriculturist.

It is beautifully printed with type cast expressly for it, and on the best of clear white paper, with wide margin, so that the numbers can be easily stitched or bound together.

A copious Index is weekly added, which will be fully amplified at the end of the year, for the bound fully amplified at the end of the year, for the bound work.

Comprehensive in its Character,

Each volume will contain all matter worth recording, which transpires either at home or abrond, and which can serve to instruct or interest the Farmer, the Planter, the Fruit-Grower, the Gardener, and the Stock-Breeder; thus making it the most complete and useful Agricultural Publication of the day.

Correct and valuable Market Reports.

The Markets will be carefully reported, giving the actual transactions which take place from week to week, in Grain, Provisions, Cattle, &c.; thus keeping our readers constantly and reliably advised as to their interests. During the past year, the knowledge obtained from these Market Reports alone has saved our readers thousands of dollars, by informing them of the best time to sell or purchase.

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming Community.

Such a Paper is demanded by the Farming Community.

The publishers confidently believe that the agriculturists of this country are becoming too much awake to the demands of their own calling to be longer satisfied with the slow monthly issues of a paper professedly devoted to their interests, or to trust alone to the irresponsible extracts in a "farmer's column," so popular just now in papers chiefly devoted to business, politics, or literature; and they look for the united support of all the intelligent farmers of this country in their continued effect to furnish a weekly paper of a high and reliable character, which shall be progressive, and at the same time cautious and conservative in all its teachings.

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

that which is eafe and reliable.

An Independent Journal.

The American Agriculturist stands upon its own merits; and the truthfulness, seal, and ability, which it brings to the support of the interests of the farmer. It is untrammeled by any collateral business connections whatever; nor is it the organ of any clique, or the pulling machine of any man or thing. Thoroughly independent in all points, its ample pages are studiously given alone to the support and improvement of the great agricultural class.

Editorial Department.

The American Agriculturist is under the editorial supervision of Mr. A. B. Allen, its principal editor for the past ten years, and Mr. Orange Judd, A. M., a thoroughly practical farmer and agricultural chemist.

They will be assisted by Prof. Nash, who has been

New England, and is now Agricultural Professor of Amberst College; Rev. Wm. Cliff, widely known as a pleasing and instructive writer on gardening and other departments of practical agriculture, and, in addition to these, a number of other eminent agriaddition to these, a number of other eminent agri-cultural writers.

All the editors are men practically experienced in their profession, each of whom can handle the Plow as well as the Pon.

The Cheapest Paper in the country, of its character.

The American Agriculturist is supplied to regular subscribers at a cost of less than four cents a number, of sixteen large pages; and to large clubs for less than two and a half cents. Each number will contain suggestions for the treatment of soils, manues, crops, stock, &c., which will often be worth to the reader more than the cost of the paper for a year.

FARM FOR SALE.

WILL be sold at private sale, that well-known Farm lying on Seventh street Plank Road, in Monigomery county, Maryland, about eight miles from Washington city, containing 372½ acres, more or less; about 100 in meadow, 100 in wood, and the balance (1724) in cleared fields. The Farm can be divided into several, giving a fair proportion of wood and meadow land to each. The whole Farm is well watered, several never-failing streams passing through it. The fencing is good, and there is a large quantity of chestnut timber in the woods, suitable for a further division of the fields.

In point of health, beauty, and location, it is not surpassed by any farm in the State of Maryland. It has always been remarkable for its beauty. The dwelling contains eight rooms, kitchen, pantry, &c., garret, cellars, &c., all surrounded by a neat paling, with a pump of good water in the yard; burn, stable, and other out houses; good apring house, with a never-failing spring of delightfully cool water attached.

Servants' quarters for as many hands as would ever be necessary on the Farm.

A good apple orchard, and some excellent peaches, pears, cherries, &c.

The road being now of the very best character, produce from the Farm and manures from the City can be hanled atany and all seasons of the year.

This property will be sold twenty-five per cent. cheaper than any other property on the road between it and the city. With an ordinary horse, it is not more than an hour's drive to the gity.

Any communications addressed to CHARLES V. GORDON, Washington, D. C., will receive attention.

STAR AND ADAMANTINE CANDLES, AND LARD OIL.
